Employee Engagement & Welfare

In The New Normal Of Work-From-Home, Post Covid19

With industry leaders having to facilitate Work-From-Home (WFH) as the primary 'mode and place of work', how are we to look at employee engagement and welfare? The Department of Liberal Arts, IIT- Hyderabad is conducting an online conference with HR leaders and wellness experts from the IT-industry to discuss the state of flux which the present COVID19 pandemic has thrown up. We understand that in the present time there is much churning happening where articulating a problem statement itself is an issue. This online conference is aimed at bringing an articulation of the issues that are or would-be. So that, from this collective articulation, a status quo could be arrived at, and an eased out way-forward could be paved.

The following broad areas will be discussed:
